Faith and Patience: Inheriting the Promises of God ...

The promise we can lean on is that patience is God-given restraint, not something we are to produce in our own strength. The Lord is the one who provides us with spiritual armor to go into battle. Our only responsibility is to trust that God will provide the strength to hold on, and then act accordingly to our faith in that promise.

Practicing Patience When God Has You Waiting

So our patience toward God stems from our faith in him. One of the descriptions of patience in the Bible says, "Here is the patience of the saints... those who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus" (Revelation 14:12). In faith and hope we "by perseverance in doing good seek for glory and honor and immortality —eternal life" (Romans 2:7). This is the nature of our patience toward God. 1 We are Believers

Patience and Faith - Waiting Upon God

Nevertheless, God does indeed call for patience from His children. To be patient is to wait.

The need for God’s gift of patience in a right now world ...

Patience with God is perhaps our greatest faith struggle. God, it would seem, is never in a hurry and because of that we live with an impatience that can test the strongest faith and the stoutest heart. Life, as we can all attest to, is not without its bitter frustrations and crushing heartaches.

Patience With God | Ron Rolheiser

In the household of faith, patience, often that rarest of virtues, becomes a test of authenticity and a necessity for the right ordering of the home, the church, and Christian fellowship. That said, the church must obey the command of God and seek to demonstrate authentic Christian patience—and fast.

Patience is Not Optional for the Christian

That you be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises. American King James Version That you be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

By R. Herbert. Patience with others is Love, Patience with self is Hope, Patience with God is Faith. The quotation above from the Egyptian Christian scholar, lawyer, and teacher Adel Bestavros (1924 – 2005) conveys a timeless truth – or three truths – that we also find in the writings of the apostle Paul. Paul speaks of patience more than any other New Testament writer – in fact, more than all other New Testament writers together.

PATIENCE IS - livingwithfaith.org - Living with faith

Faith is developed by the Word of God and patience is developed through the testing of our faith. Sometimes things are going to happen that seem like direct opposites of what we prayed for, even when we prayed in faith. We must learn that we are not being tested, but rather our faith is. Faith, when tested, develops patience.

Faith and Patience - Today's Word with Rick Pina

Frank sees Patience With God as a conversation about faith, a meeting place for those dissatisfied with fundamentalist answers, and a search for a spiritual path that matches reality -- a path where paradox is honored and where faith and doubt coexist. It is an invitation into what Frank calls the Church of Hopeful Uncertainty.
